CLASS OF JANUARY, 1951

BARRINGER HIGH SCHOOL

Newark, New Jersey

Dedication

It is to the principles of knowledge and harmonious relations with our fellow men, through which our lives are made richer and more serene, that this book is, in all sincerity, dedicated.

When I remember how the years have fled
On winged feet to Time's age-old abode,
And how I gazed in silent, solemn dread
Up Future's long and winding, unknown road;
When I recall how awe-filled were my eyes
When first I looked on Barringer's dark walls;
What joy was mine, what pleasant, sweet, surprise
When first I wandered through her ancient halls,
My happy heart beats loud the drums of pride
That She, with outstretched arms would welcome me,
And all my dread, my joy did cast aside,
And, all my fears did quickly cease to be.
O Teacher, famed of Honor, Truth and Light,
Shine on, and pierce the darkness of the night.

LORETTA HOWARD

Editorial

What is time? Let's call it the past, the present and the future. Some people seem to think that living is absorbing all three rings of the circus of time at once, never noticing the unquestionable, unchanging order in which they parade. Stop a minute to consider; the only factor of time you CAN see is the present. The past is a dead tomorrow or an exhausted today; a bottle of spilt milk that not even the cat can lap up. The future is nothing more tangible than the distant optical meeting of two parallel lines; you feel the meeting is always nearer as you walk ahead, yet you never reach it.

Today is supreme! Today is the only living time! Only the happenings of today---now---this instant can you grasp and say, "This is live action; this is being." The child says, "When I can go to school"; the student says, "When I grow up"; the adult says, "When I retire"; and as the retired middle-ager looks back at it all, a nebulous memory forms the shroud of a lifetime barely nibbled at.

In much the same way, life also passes by the one who lives in the past. "I should have taken physics last semester", "I don't like the suit I bought last week", "I don't like the typewriter I bought last year." He's so busy worrying about the past that he hasn't time to live today well enough to profit by his mistakes; his neglected today will be another regret tomorrow.

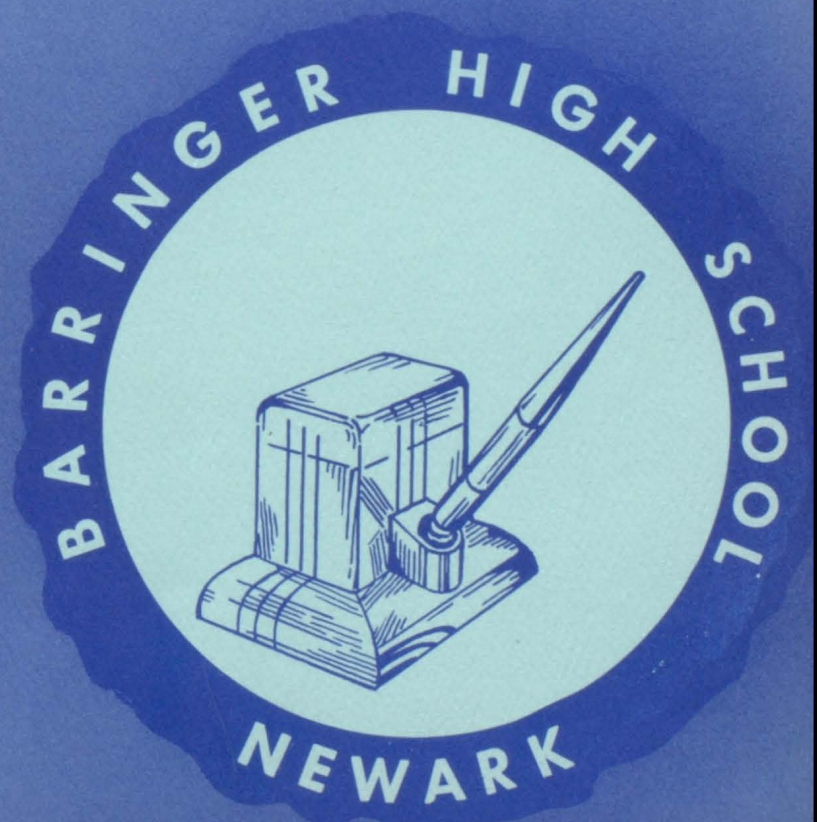

Emerge from your cave! Burst forth with the glorious miracle that is YOU! Start a flood of your accomplishments, bring out the ability, the personality, the effort that lies dormant within you; know the sweet fatigue of achievement. "Think," said Dante, "that this day will never dawn again." Grasp it! Live it! Use it! For it is the only time you have.

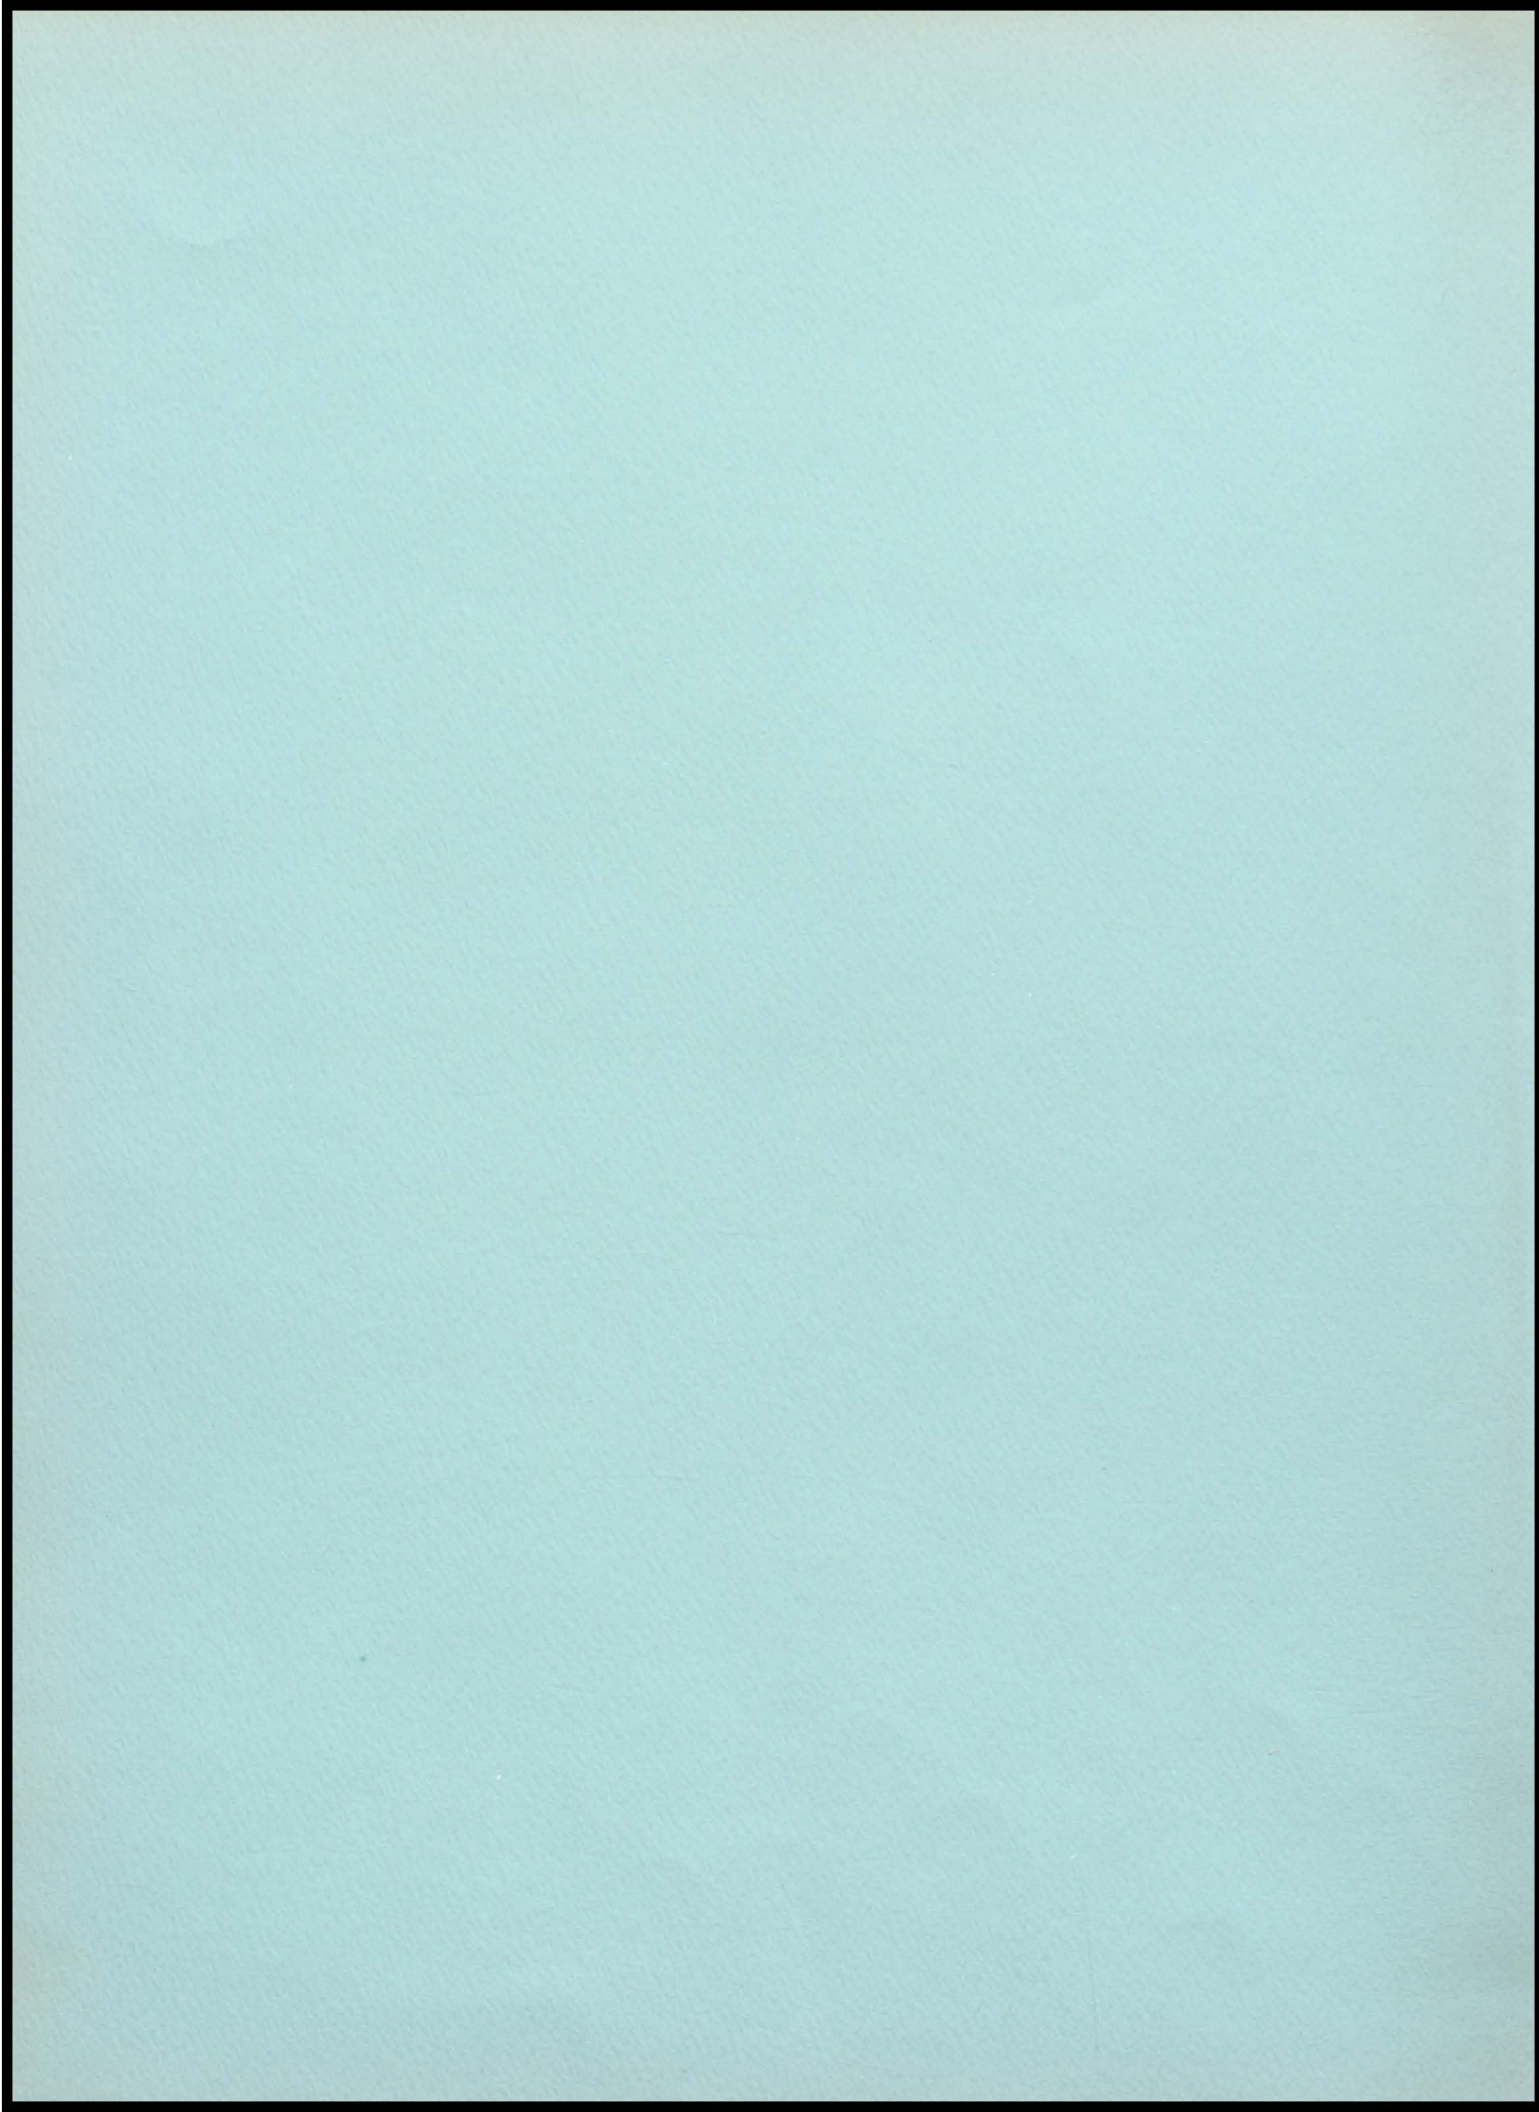

Do we say it is unnecessary to provide for the future? On the contrary, today well-lived is the best possible profound effect upon the upper floors.

As you awaken tomorrow morning, remember that you are breathing the air of a day that God considered so singular, so exclusive, that He will never have it repeated. Know that it is YOUR day; yours to greet your friends, to grow, to breathe, to thrill to the sun and the stars, to laugh, to love, to live. Your day of which to make a splendid yesterday, or a bitter tomorrow; to create an inner security, or an attitude of bereavement. You can forget last night's homework if you do tonight's. You can forget that you were rude yesterday, if your manners are admirable today. You can forget that you were a dullard yesterday, if you sparkle today. Remember to:

Focus all being and energy on today; for through such will your fabulous future become a magnificent past.

THE EDITORS

Executive Faculty

Success is the goal of everyone. One milestone on the path of success has been reached by the class of January, 1951. It is the sincere wish of everyone on the Barringer Faculty that your ideals will always be high and that your successes will be great. Our best wishes to you as you take your place in this wonderful world.

ROGER B. SAYLOR,
Principal

DR. SAYLOR

MR. EISENBERG

The kind of world you help to make depends on the kind of person you are.

Animals satisfy their physical wants; but man has other wants besides. He loves beauty. He strives for ideals. He seeks moral perfection. He unriddles life's mysteries. He develops his talents. He has deep loyalties. To satisfy his craving for these human values he often sacrifices animal comforts.

What you value most determines the kind of person you will be. To cultivate those emotions, attitudes, sympathies, ideals, and indignations that can build for you a good life in a good society is a goal worthy of your best efforts. May you have the strength "to strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield" in pursuing this goal.

ERNEST G. KRICKETT

Life is a jest, and all things show it,
I thought so once, but now I know it.

SALVATORE F. LAVANTE

I never, with important air,
In conversation overbear.

MICHAEL LIBERTO

But from this earth, this grave, this dust,
My God will raise me up, I trust.

ELI PICKWICK LEWIS

Music is in all growing things.

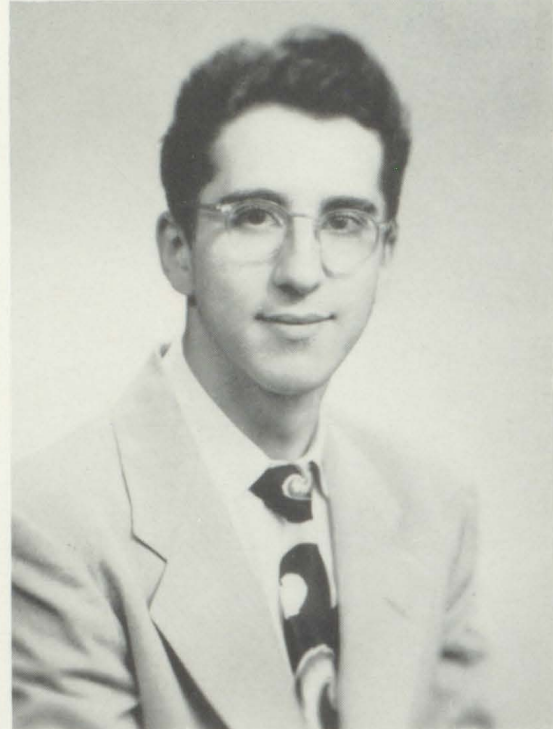

EDWARD LIGHTSEY

One can be instructed in society,
One is inspired only in solitude.

JOHN LISS

His best companions, innocence and health;
And his best riches, ignorance of wealth.

DON MANGIONE

A quiet nature and a steadfast friend.

JOSEPH MANTINEO

Worth makes the man and want of it the fellow.

LOUIS MARAVIGLIA

A fashionable woman is always loved.

KATHRYN MARCANTUNO

When pain and anguish wring the brow

A ministering angel thou!

MARIE LORRAINE MATTHEWS

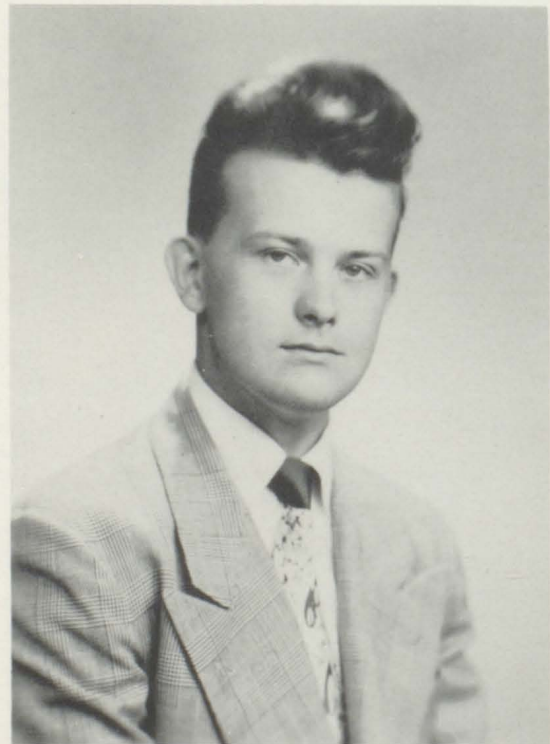

Success is man's god.
JERRY MATTONE

Her eyes, like marigolds, had sheathed their light.
JOAN MCGURK

I do not ask to see the distant scene,
One step enough for me.
JOSEPH EDWARD McMAHON

It's nice to be natural, when you're naturally nice.

CATHERINE MELCHIONNE

His form was of the manliest beauty,
His heart was kind and soft.

BERNARD L. MOORE

In her are found all things needed for success — intelligence, keen understanding, and quick wit.

NANCY MORTELLITE

A beauty statuesque, one touch of Venus.

MIRIAM DOLORES MORTON

And since, I never dare to write
As funny as I can.

GERALD NISIVOCIA

Mirth lightens dark hours.
ANNA MARIE PANTANO

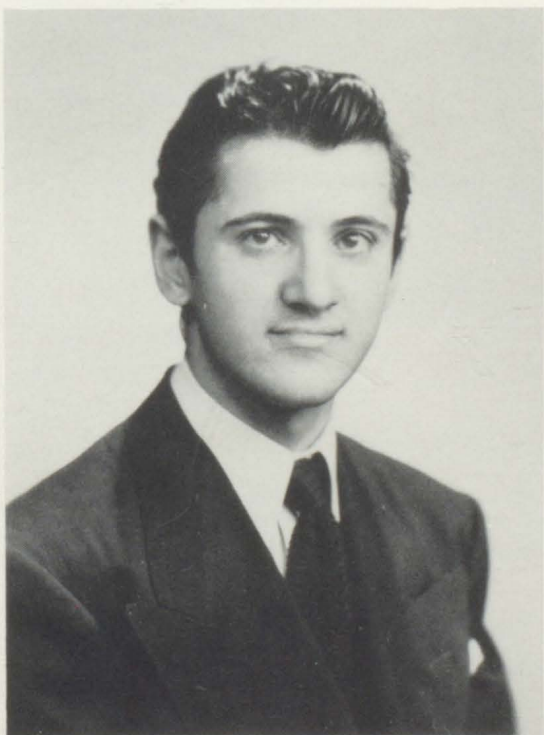

Divinely-warbled voice —
With thousand echoes still prolongs
each heavenly close.

THERESA PARADISE

Thoughts are mightier than strength of hand.

ERNEST D. PASSERINI

With pensive heart and subtle wit,
yea, he will shew them Truth.

BURTON PASTERNAK

Fortune befriends the bold.
WILLIAM D. PAYNE, JR.

Grace was in all her steps,
Heaven in her eyes.
AUDREDE PETERSON

The grandest operations, both in nature and grace, are the most silent and imperceptible.
GERTRUDE MARIE PETERSON

Skilled in each art.
DIANE JEANNE PILACZYNSKI

No man is born without faults, he is best who has the fewest.

ALFRED PINTO

Yet taught by time my heart has learned to glow
For other's good, and melt at other's woe.

ROSE PISTONE

He speaketh not; and yet there lies
A conversation in his eyes.

RAYMOND JAMES PIZZI

Mercury travels on winged foot.

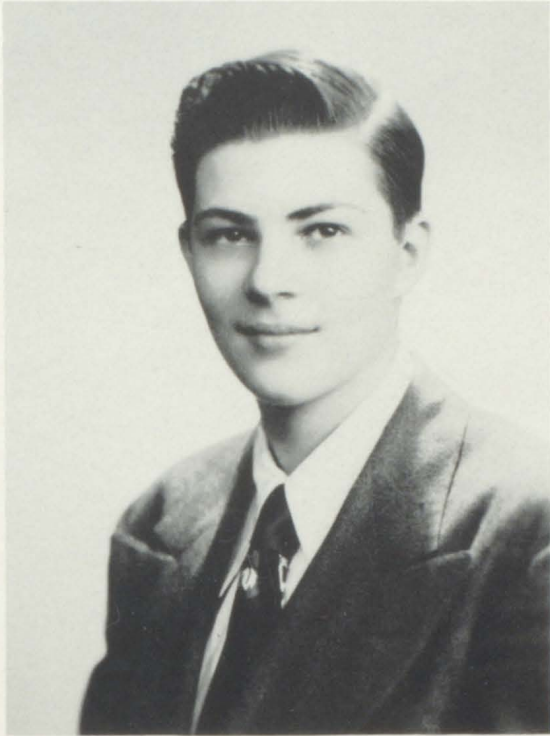

ALLEN POLITE

Come and trip it as ye go,
On the light fantastic toe.

DIANE R. PROCACCINI

I shall think — and thought is silence.

BILL RACHMIEL

A dancing shape, an image gay,
To haunt, to startle, and waylay.

LILLIAN RAMIREZ

Do you know a young and beautiful woman who is not ready to flirt —
just a little?

ALICE M. REID

Bid me discourse; I will enchant thine ear.

SHIRLEY RETTBERG

A happy lass is she, and never an old maid will she be.

MARIE ANN RIZZOLO

Write me as one who loves his fellow-men.

JOSEPH ROBERTELLO

While fancy, like the finger of a clock,
Runs the great circuit, and is still at home.

ADAM ROMANO

I may tell you white is black — if you believe it — that's your fault.

MICHAEL ROBERTELLO

But he whose inborn worth his acts commend,
Of gentle soul, to human race a
friend.

JOSEPH C. ROTONDA

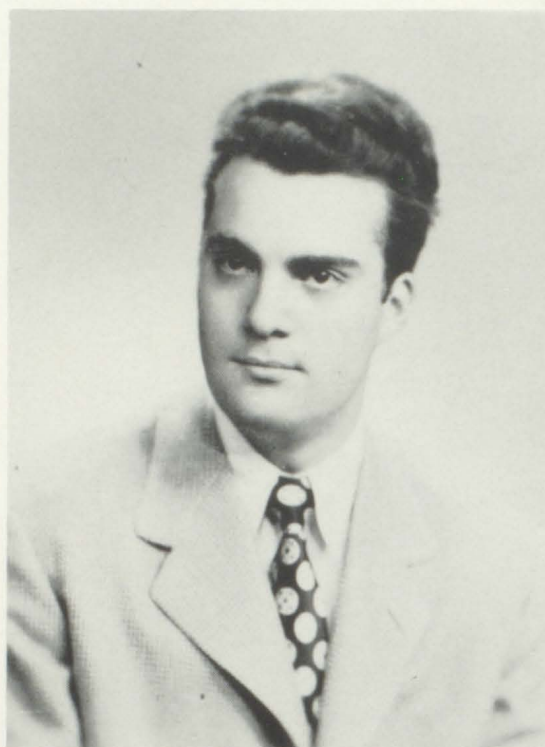

Her air, her manners, all who saw
admir'd;
Courteous though coy, and gentle
though retir'd.

FLORENCE RUGGIERO

As pure in thought as the angels are:
to know her is to love her.

AGNES SALERNO

How happy the life unembarrassed
by the cares of business!

MICHAEL RUSSO

She is gentle that doth gentle deeds.

FILOMENA SALERNO

Industry has annexed thereto the fairest fruits and the richest rewards.

DOLORES SALVATORE

She has an eye that could speak,
though her tongue were silent.

CAROLINE SARNO

Hear that steady tap of keys?
The news, and e'en this book
she typed with ease.
ARLENE EDITH SCHLENGER

The greatest thing you'll ever learn
Is just to love and be loved in return.
ALICIA SCHOONOVER

As pure as a pearl,
And perfect; a noble and innocent
girl.
MARY SCUDESE

As long as I count the votes what are you going to do about it?

GENE SETTE

Thou, in our wonder and astonishment hast built thyself a lifelong monument.

JOHN T. SIBILIA

Music hath charms and so hath musicians.
The young man with a horn!

DANNY SISTO

As merry as the day is long.
TAZZI SLAUGHTER

Swift as an eagle, and as an eagle strong.
GEMMIE SMITH

And he gained ground; he fairly flew!
JAMES SNEAD

She moves a goddess, and she looks a queen.

VINNIE SPARNO

A beautiful smile is to the female countenance what the sunbeam is to the landscape.

ANN L. STASIO

A flashing foil, a shout "En garde!"

FRANK L. STRAMAGLIA

To the Sirens first shalt thou come,
who bewitch all men.

DOLORES ANN TANCREDO

Ye know right well how meek soe'er
he seem,
No keener hunter after glory breathes.

ROBERT C. TAYLOR

Women's glances express what they dare not speak.

JOAN TELFER

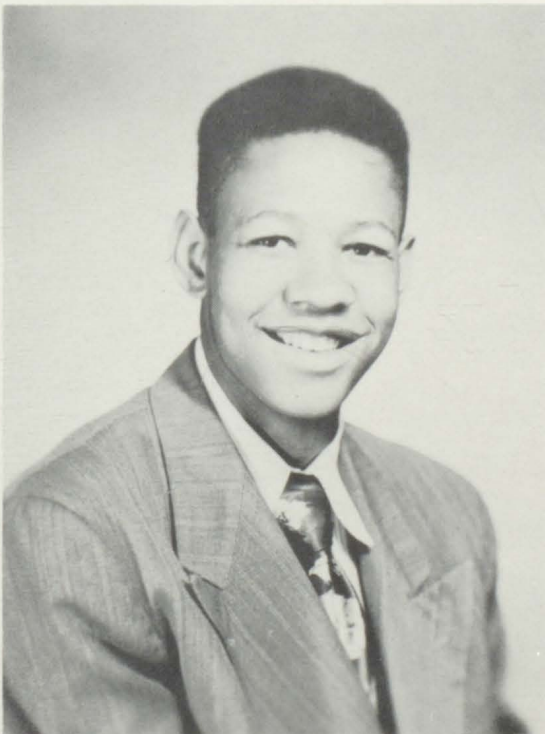

Fair tresses man's imperial race insnare,
And beauty draws us with a single hair.

FLORENCE TENPENNY

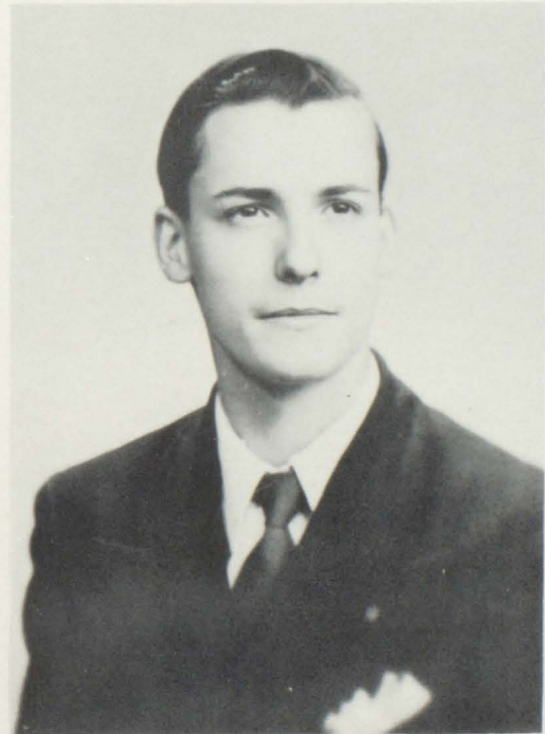

Fleet as the wind; a master of motion.

DAVE THOMPSON

In quietness and confidence shall be your strength.

CHARLES THORNTON

Wearing all that weight
Of learning lightly like a flower.
MARY LOU TRAVISANO

The greater man, the greater courtesy.
DAVID C. TURNBULL

Expression alone can display charms.
CLEMENT VALENTE

His limbs were cast in manly mold
For hardy sports or contest bold.

JOHN VANTUNO

His ready speech flowed fair and free
In phrase of gentlest courtesy.

CARL GERALD VITIELLO

Oh call it by some better name,
For friendship sounds too cold.

MICHAEL WALL

It is a very good world to live in
To lend, or to spend, or to give in.

MABLE LEVELLE WHEELER

Dignity, grace and warmth combin'd
in the savour of her spirit.

CLAIRE WINTSCH

Tomorrow, do thy worst, for I have lived today.

LOIS ANN WUNNENBERG

You hear that boy laughing? — you think he's all fun;
But the angels laugh too, at the good
he has done.

MICHAEL SAMUEL ZANGA

For you they call; the swaying mass
Their eager faces turning.

Evelyn D. Coppock

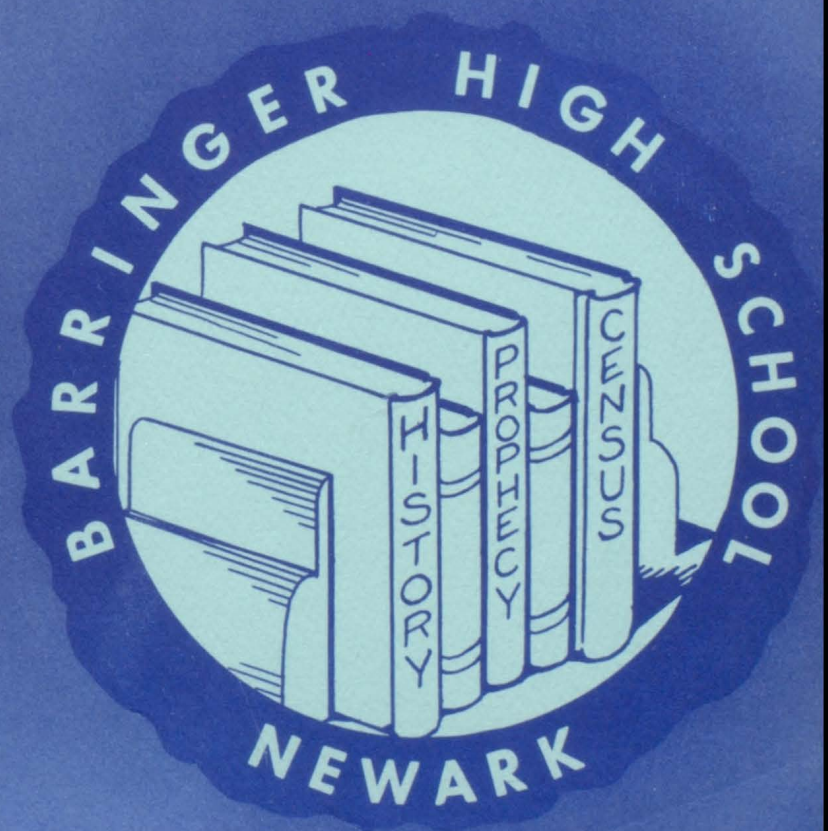

Bar - rin - ger, to Thee fare - well, for now we part

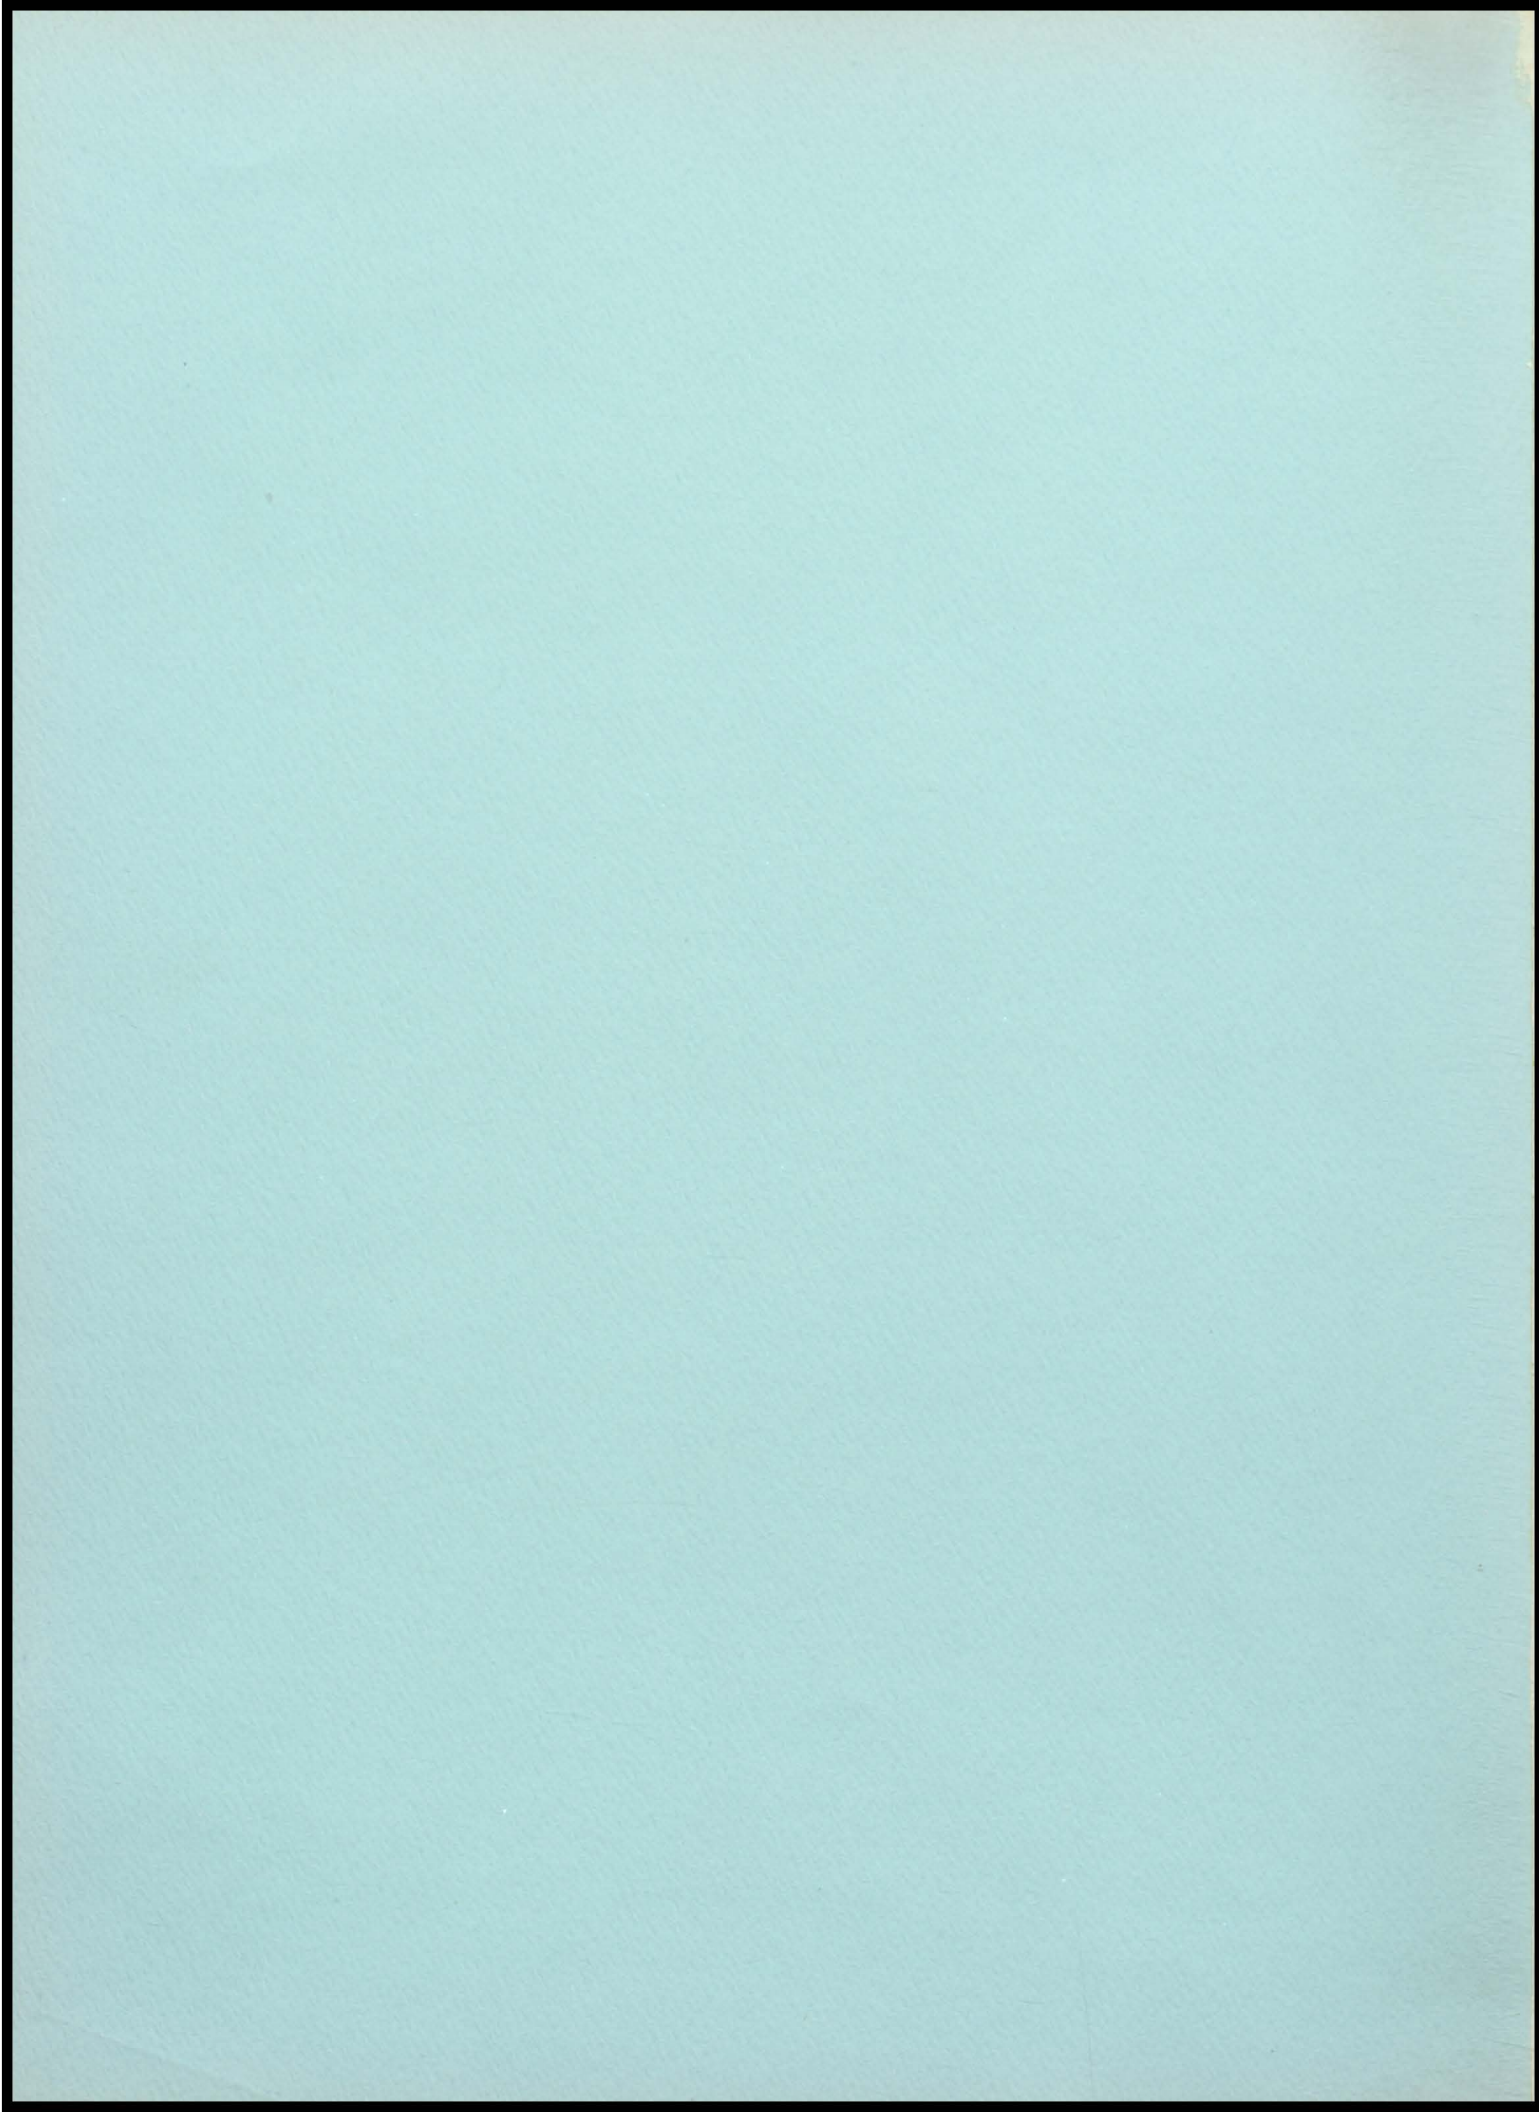

A smile, a tear re - veal the love we hold with - in our hearts. We end our four years' jour - ney; we breathe a fond fare - well

Truth, Ho - nor, Light in Bar - rin - ger will al - ways dwell.

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It consists of six systems of music. Each system has a vocal line on a single staff and a piano accompaniment on a grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The key signature has one flat (B-flat). The time signature is 4/4. The lyrics are written below the vocal line. The piano accompaniment features chords and moving lines in both hands. The song ends with a final chord in the piano part.

Class History

To young hearts and young minds one year seems long, and four years are an eternity. We think only in terms of a recent past and a very real present. The future seems so remote and so uncertain that all thoughts of it are pushed back into the dim recesses of the mind.

We, the class of January, 1951, now stand on the threshold of a new life. As we look back upon the years which have passed, we realize that what was once the future, is now the present. We search wistfully for memories of those days which are no more.

We live, we learn, and every experience enriches our lives. The things which we have absorbed academically are important to us. We'll never forget them, for the knowledge which we have acquired will help us pursue the fields we have chosen. However, more important than the skill in mathematics or in the arts, are the experiences which we have shared with each other. We smile indulgently at the antics of freshmen, for to us in our world of maturity, they are like children playing with a new toy; thrilled and excited. We watch them and our thoughts float through the placid skies of memory and we are freshmen once again.

When we, the class of 1951, entered Barringer, we found many things to confuse us. The auditorium was in the process of being painted, hence we were introduced to the school via the cafeteria. It was then that we met our guidance counselor, Mrs. Cippolletti. We found in her, from the beginning, those qualities of wisdom and understanding which made us trust her and regard her as a true friend. For four years, she has guided us and helped us to solve the problems which faced us in our new world. From the cafeteria we trudged to our newly assigned home rooms. Some of us were separated from our friends.

In spite of the fact that we were given a diagram of the buildings, we still had a hard time trying to discover why room 76 was in the old building while room 73 was in the new one. It was even more difficult to solve the greatest of all mysteries; why room 25 was next to room 45. During that first year we had our share of pink elevator tickets, non-existent dance tickets, enough at least to make us wary of accepting the propositions of seniors.

At last the work on the auditorium was finished. We waited impatiently for our seats to be assigned for we were anxious to see programs on the stage. It took some of us four years to get from behind the poles and into seats comparatively near the front. We were introduced to our first football season, and we cheered loud and long from the bleachers. Of course we looked forward to the Christmas holidays, but we were glad when they ended for we anticipated the end of the term which would mean freedom from the "stigma" of the word "freshie."

We shall not soon forget our initiation into our sophomore year. We fell right into the arms of the angles and curves of Geometry. Our sense of security and social elevation was quickly shattered when freshmen were no longer admitted to Barringer and we were again in the lowest grade in the school. The second half of our sophomore year, however, brought back our poise and feeling of superiority. We were EDUCATED sophs; and sophisticated in every sense of the word. The clubs began to appeal to us and we threw ourselves with great zeal into extra-curricular activities. Mrs. Everall left us, that term, but the memory of her forgetfulness and her "now young people" still lingers.

It was about that time that Rizzolo and Stasio wound up with three lunch periods daily, until Mr. Buhrman finally caught up with them. How we envied them.

Griffith, Grieco, and Vantuno made the football team that year and have been on the team ever since. We were proud of them then, we are twice as proud now.

In our Junior year we were assigned to new homerooms. Miss Smith's all-girl homeroom was broken up, and most of the girls wound up with Miss Wilsey. Boys at last! That year the strike fever struck the Newark high schools. Barringer caught it, and how. Enough of that! Aggie DiDeo, Bill Biunno, John Sibilis, Mike Zanga and Crew-Cut Jerry Mattone became our all-star cheering squad. How about those terr-if-ic twirlers? Especially the captain? Hmmm? Remember when Jean DiLisio's lunch-room birthday party went up in smoke? Lillian Ramirez has learned since to blow out matches. Life CAN be beautiful, you know.

At the end of the third year, Miss Gray and Mr. Argand consented to be our advisors and they have worked hard to make our class a good one. While we were still Juniors, Donato Zecca was elected class president and Lou Maraviglia vice-president. Mighty fine officers have they been too. We elected Al Grieco treasurer. For the feminine touch, we gave Jean DiLisio the job of secretary.

We were the first class in Barringer to sling mops over our shoulders and to lug brushes and cleaning fluid to our customers. We were a practical class, you see, for we cut down a great deal of expense. Ingenuity? We had it! The February Festival broke all records in attendance.(?) How about the class outing that wound up with mass cutting, Sunnyfield. Ssh ssh!

Front seats in the auditorium at last! After three and a half years we could enjoy the assembly programs. And why? We could SEE them, of course! The football team improved and our boys were really wonderful. Work on the yearbook went at full blast and we really went all out to make the publication not only a good one but the most inexpensive in the history of the school.

The Thanksgiving Dance and the Prom we shall always remember, for they were our last chance to be together socially as a class. The girls have pressed their corsages between the pages of an album. The boys still remember the bills, the rented tuxedos and the lovely girls whom they escorted.

The award Assembly amazed us. Never before had we fully realized the fact that hard work has its compensations. Many 4A's received prizes for outstanding work in their studies, but the greatest award of all was still to come.

We received our diplomas at the end of January. They were more than certificates of academic accomplishment. They were, then and will continue to be for each graduate a symbol of Truth, Honor, and Light. The name BARRINGER on each diploma means different things to different people. However, there is one thing it means to every Barringer graduate, beloved Alma Mater.

This page of the Acropolis News is devoted to the class of January, 1951.

Through extensive research, our staff has been able to locate every graduate of the aforementioned class. We hope that this semi-annual check of our twenty-year graduates will bring back old memories and bind us together forever.

OTIS HARRIS FOUNDS HOME FOR AGED

Father Harris, one of our old Barringer Students, has finally carried out his life's ambition to aid modern society. His new Home For The Aged will be located in Secaucus on the rolling meadows of New Jersey.

Many Barringer graduates now employed there, find that the place has a most enjoyable atmosphere, and that the company is really congenial. Helen D'Antuno, Sophie DeMarco, Bernice Day, Evelyn Davis, Barbara Kerekes, Marie Matthews and Miriam Morton are all serving the home as nurses. At retirement, they expect to remain on as inmates. Dr. William Rachmeil is listed as the house physician. Other class members working for this institution are Patricia Ascolese, (house beautician), Andrew DeSessa (fireman), Rosella Cilli and Constance Generelli (companions), and Tazzi Slaughter (receptionist).

LADY WRESTLERS

Next Friday night, "Tiger" Lil Ramirez will meet "Buxom" Marie Buck in a title tilt for the New Jersey Championship.

Scheduled for that same evening in the team matches are: Nan Clarcurzio vs. Cathy Marcantuno, Elly Conforti vs. Vin Sparno, and Annie Stasio and Beverly Jenkins versus the "Earles Brothers."

Some of the ardent ringside fans are: Danny Farrell, Sandra Giuliano, Ed Griffith, Doris Hendricks and Shirley Rettberg.

SIBILIA FORMULATES NEW THEORY

John Sibilialia, a physicist who is now working at his Princeton University laboratory, has recently found a fallacy in Einstein's Theory of Relativity. John has now proclaimed his new theory of "irrelativity." This has shocked the entire world, with the exception of the Russians, who claim that one of their own scientists, John Lissoff had revealed this theory two years before.

While we are speaking of Mr. Sibilialia we must mention that his young son, John Sibilialia, Jr., caused great commotion when he asked his High School Mathematics teacher, Miss Doris Fromm, to explain a problem involving lunar calculus. She developed a nervous breakdown due to frustration. She is STILL working out the mathematical equation on her cell walls at Overbrook. Bernice Cohen, an employee there, is desperately trying to aid her. Jerry Nisivoccia, Edward Lightsey, Danny Sisto and Thersa Paradise who are cell neighbors, are trying to console her with their rhapsodizing music.

PROSPECTORS

Claire Wintsch, Rose Pistone, Loretta Del Russo and Dorothy DeVito are prospecting in the Klondike area of Alaska. The girls haven't yet struck gold, but they did find husbands! At last!

OLYMPIC FINALISTS

The husband and wife team representing the United States is out to capture at least two of the major events of the 1971 Olympic Games. Al Grieco will attempt to capture the Decathlon and his wife Aggie, the World-100-Meter Breast Stroke. Lots of Luck!

Alumni Issue

SCHOOL NEWARK, N. J.

JANUARY 1971

NEW B.H.S.

Through the untiring efforts of our own Senator, Paul Alongi and the Alumni Association headed by Dr. Louis Maraviglia, the fund-raising campaign, which originated for the purpose of building a new Barringer, has come to a successful conclusion. Jerry Mattone, President of the Rock Trust Campaign, contributed one hundred thousand dollars to the fund, he is now handling all financial matters. In a personal interview, Mr. Mattone said that he will do all he can to see that the students of this new school will be allowed hour lunch periods and legalized rallies.

Junio, Corbo, the millionaire builder who has just completed some additions to the United Nations Building, has greatly underbid the Seymour Cione Construction Company. Junius has received the contract for the "New Barringer." Mr. Corbo said that excavations will begin in May of this year.

The plans for this ultra-modern school include an outdoor gym, sun deck swimming pool, individual lockers, and a whirl pool for every Barringer student! What an excuse for tardiness!

ENTERTAINERS

Many of our graduates have found dancing a most enjoyable profession. Audrede Peterson, Gemmie Smith, and Alan Polite just joined the "Ballet Russe." Diane Proctor and Michall Zanga are now featured at the Roxy Theatre in their atomic dance.

Some others who have found "Burlesque" jobs in the entertainment world are: Mike Robertello, Clem Valento, Bob Taylor, musicians; Al Payne, jazz orchestra leader.

VARIETY TRIO

Bob Agolia, John Vantuno and Bill Biunno are now appearing at the "Copacabana" in a laugh and song trio. The boys have announced the completion of a song that they have written. "Where's Phil?" This will soon be available on records.

AIR HOSTESSES SURVIVE CRASH

Lady luck was with Adelaide Donaldson and Lois Wunnenberg when their plane crashed in Lower Siberia, on Aug. 13, 1971. The two girls were found by four salt miners wandering through a freezing blizzard. Sal LaVantoff, Eli Lewisiski, Michall Walloff and Edward Jastov, safely guided the unfortunate girls through the impenetrable "Iron Curtain." By utilizing a can opener which Eli had taken twenty years before from the Barringer cafeteria, they dug their way out.

UNDERWORLD GRADUATES

Some of the members of the class of '51 have found it very profitable to organize their book-making enterprises. These members include J. R. Robertello, Gene Sette, Mickey Liberto, Matty Cassiere, Nick (Pretty Boy) Fiore, and Joey McMahon.

Mr. Sette made the following remark to our reporter, "Well, soon, you know, this racket is gettin' pretty tough---. Things are so bad that I was forced to fire some cops yesterday. I'm sorry to say that they were my old classmates, Dan Zecca, Ernie Passerini, Joe Mantineo, Donnie Mangione, and Fearless Chuck Thornton." Our observant reporter also noticed that Alicia Schoonover and Rosalyn Annuziata are the feminine members of the gang.

GUEST SPEAKER

John Kehayes, famous Military Park Orator, will be our assembly guest next Friday. His secretary, Joan McGurk, will also speak. Their subject will be "The Whatness of Which."

CLIFF

Poor Joan Telfer never did marry Cliff — she took it the hard way and jumped off one. Crying for her were professional mourners: Isabelle Hillard, Carol Sarno and Anna Marie Pantano. Cliff still stands firm.

EDWARD GRIFFITH

Ed, a real speedster, spent three years on the track team. During his last two years, he captured the 100-yard dash championship with the ease and grace of a real runner.

Ed's speed carried over from track to the gridiron and made him a constant T.D. threat. It not only made him top scorer on the squad, but it also earned him a spot on the All-City team.

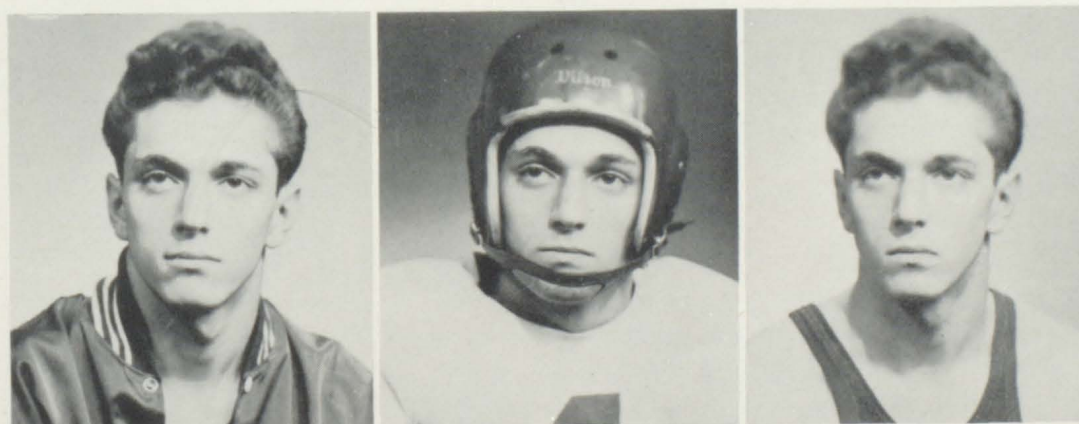

As a freshman, Ed earned the first of his three letters in Cross Country. He had been previously turned away by the football coach because he was too light.

Perseverance is this lad's middle name.

John was a member of the track team which took the city championship in '49 and '50. He earned letters in both these years by taking Junior Low Hurdle championship in '49 and the Senior Low in '50. In his fourth year at B.H.S., he was voted captain of the team.

A rough customer under the boards, John spent two seasons on the varsity basketball team. His fine set shooting and pet hook shot made him a constant threat.

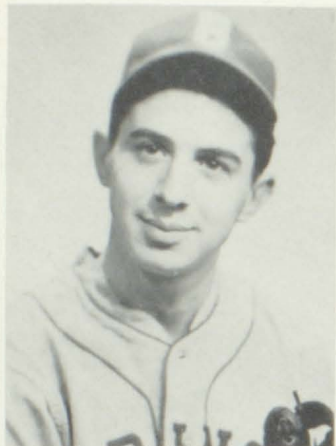

For three years Johnny played end on the Big Blue football squad where his speed and hard blocking were big factors on the offense. Defense was Johnny's favorite however, and he proved it time and again by making himself a tough player to move.

TWO LETTERMEN

BOB AGOLIA - TWO LETTER

Bob played Varsity Baseball for two years at left field. His phenomenal defensive play, and long ball hitting made him a key man on the diamond, and also earned him a place on the All-City and All-County selection teams. He was elected captain of the squad in his senior year.

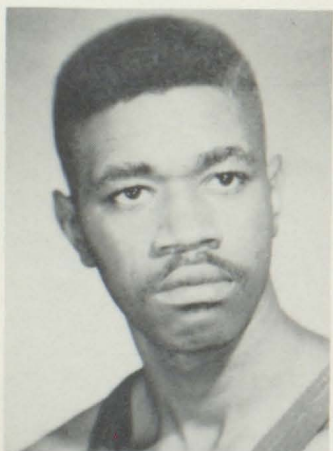

In basketball, because of his diminutive size, Bobby played at guard for two years. His calm ball handling and high arcing shots made him a favorite among his teammates.

AL GRIECO - TWO LETTER

For three years, Al gave the Blue some of the best Quarterbacking and blocking the school has ever seen. His passing and evasive running earned him a berth on the All-City and All-County teams.

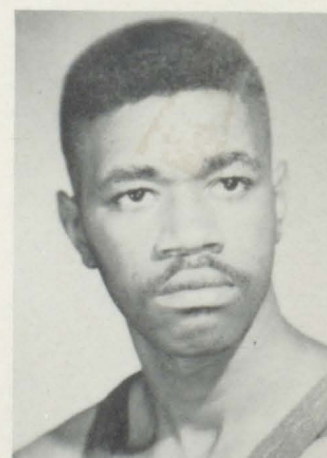

Al's shiftyness carried over from football to baseball, where at shortstop his grace and ease were really something to see.

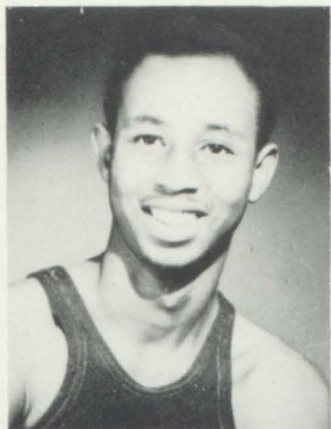

AL POLITE - TWO LETTERMAN

A cross-country man for four years, Al was the main reason for many victories for the Big Blues. In his senior year, he was rewarded by being elected captain.

Unable to stay away from the cinders, Al earned his second "B" in track. His specialty was the half-mile and quarter-mile events. In the city meet he took home the one-half championship.

MAJOR 13's

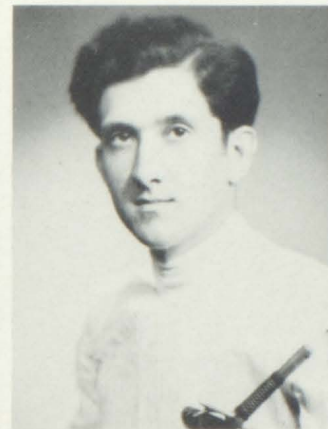

GEMMY SMITH

Gemmy's three years on the track team were very colorful. His outstanding feats were the capturing of the City High-Jump Championship, second position in the county, and last but not least, first position in the State meet.

FRANK STRAMAGLIA - FENCING

For four years, our "Cyrano" of Barringer, Frank Stramaglia, has been capturing event after event at fencing meets. Because of his outstanding ability, he was voted captain of the squad in his senior year. We are proud of him for his part in upholding the fine tradition and reputation which have been Barringer's throughout the years.

FENCING

FENCING

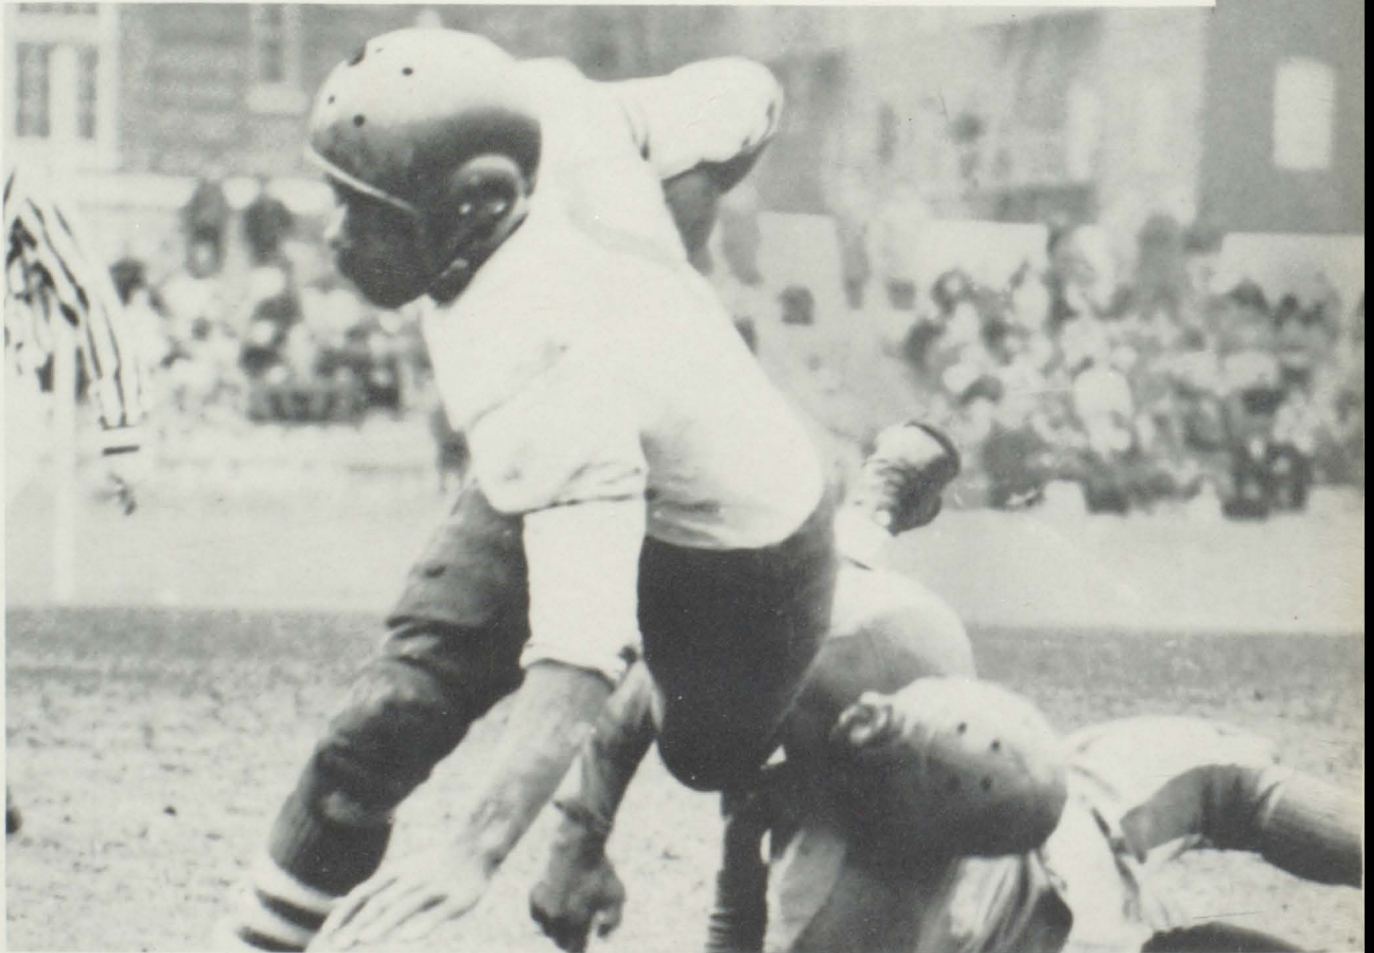

Barringer is recognized as one of the best in the field of fencing. The Big Blue is always capable of building a good squad regardless of the material. This has been made possible through the guidance of Mr. Sibilia and Dr. Cetrulo. These men have been a big factor in developing Barringer's reputation.

In the 48-49 season, the team of Primamore, Zimmerman and Smith captured the New Jersey Championship. The Blue and White then tied for third in the 49-50 State Meet, after taking second in the regular season. As we go into the 50-51 season, we are almost certain of an excellent record, for heading the squad is Captain Frank Stramaglia with three years' experience behind his foil. Although Stramaglia will graduate in mid-season, Co-Captains Eddie Nicholas and Phil Rockmaker should be keen competition in the State Championship. We, the Class of January 1951, wish them the best of luck in the coming season.

The "B" Girls are those who have accumulated twelve hundred points in athletic activities. They may be obtained by the participation in extracurricular athletics, such as basketball, baseball, hockey, swimming, bowling, and social dancing. Points are also given for good curricular work, being line captain, achieving grades of A or B in class work, and being prepared in gym costume unfailingly throughout the term. The girls receive a "Major-B" for the accumulation of these 1200 points.
